

Short Review: “Eve of Destruction” (1990) by Dr. John L. Flynn

Eve of Destruction (1990). Orion Films, 90 min. Director: Duncan Gibbins.

Screenwriter: Yale Udoff. Cast: Gregory Hines, Renee Soutendijk, and Kevin McCarthy.

Some women have all of the fun! A female mad doctor (Soutendijk) has developed the perfect, anatomically correct, combat trained and nuclear-armed robot (Soutendijk in a dual role) for the army. When its escort is killed and the robot wounded during a robbery in San Francisco, the inventor's repressed sexuality and latent guilt rises in the machine, named Eve. The robot goes on a killing spree, and must be stopped by a top counter-insurgency expert (Gregory Hines). Lots and lots of really familiar stuff here!! At least Soutendijk is great to look at naked!

Copyright 2008 by John L. Flynn, Ph.D.